AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT. VARIETIES .- "The Convict's Scall," a new play by Fitz Simmons, will be performed tonight again, as will also the good bill of song, dance and Ethiopean eccentricity which so well pleased a large audience last night. GROVER'S THEATER ._ "The Fairy Circle, or Con O'Carrolan's Dream," a beautiful and romatic play, founded upon Irish superstition, and performed only by the Williams', will be performed to-night. The protean comediatta, "In and out of Place," and the rich Irish Farce, "The Irish Tutor," will also be performed. A bill rich, rare and racy is thus offered to Mr. Grover's patrons to-night.

FORD'S THEATER was crammed, jammed to Overflowing last night again, as it always is when charming Maggie Mitchell plays "Fanchon." The play will be repeated to-night, and we opine no other announcement is necessary to induce the attendance of a large au-dience. Maggie has always been a favorite here, and her star never wanes.

CANTERBURY .- This afternoon the performance for the benefit of the enrolled men of the Fourth Ward will be given, and this evening there will be a splendid bill of song, dance and Ethiopian eccentricity. This is the last week of Millie and Clara Fowler.

THE DRAFT.—The draft goes on. To-day, the people of the Fifth Ward find out their fate first. Capt. Putnam and Mr. Commissioner Blackford counted and placed the names in the oox, and they were drawn forth by M. Taos.

This completes the draft in the Fifth Ward, and Mr. Blackford announced that the draft for the Fourth Ward would commence at and Mr. Blackford announced that the draft for the Fourth Ward would commence at FOURTH WARD DRAFT MEETING .- A meeting of the citizens of the Fourth Ward was held Hall,) Mr. Chauncey in the chair, and Mr. S. The Chair stated that the recruiting committee had put in two recruits during the day, and credit had been obtained for three others. Mr. Lyles announced officially that the Councils had passed a bill appropriating $50,000 for the purpose of purchasing substitutes. The Fourth Ward would get the largest share, because they would have the largest number of men to furnish, probably $8,000 or $10,000. This bill was an excellent one, because it prowided for dividing the amount pro rata. The committee should not, however, relax their exertions, as $10,000 was a small sum for getting substitutes for 150 men. He suggested as first in order, that every man walk up and settle. Mr. W. E. Morgan offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to make arrangements for giving a grand vocal and instrumental concert, for the benefit of the drafted poor men of the ward.

last evening in the Council Chamber, (City

After some debate, the resolution was so amended as to make it apply to those who have contributed to the fund, and adopted. Messrs. J. H. Daniel, John B. Dawson, Rob't Ball, Wm. E. Morgan, Geo. L. Sheriff, W. H. Baldwin, Frank Herbert, James T. Walker, James L. Barbour, Wm. Douglas, Asbury Lloyd, John P. Pepper, Wm. Lord and John H. Blake were appointed the committee, The treasurer reported that up to last evening the total cash receipts amounted to $4,940.75, and expenditures $4,392, leaving a balance on hand of $558.75. To this balance is also to be added $400 reported by the finance committee and collected during the evening. Mr. Tompkins, from the committee which had visited the Provost Marshal, under instructions, to endeavor to secure a further reduction of the quota of the Fourth Ward, reported that they had been courteously received. He stated that the original quota of the city was 27,000, and he had thrown off 33 per cent., thus giving credit, as he believed, for the recruits and substitutes put in and for the erreneous enrollments. This left the enrollment upon which the present quota had been based at 17,000.

The aggregate quota of the wards, based upon the original enrollment, was forty-six hundred, and the aforesaid reduction lessened it to about twenty-nine hundred or three thousand. The committee were constrained to regard this as a liberal reduction, and did not think they could ask any further decrease. Whatever had been the quota of the wards at the commencement of the drawings, based upon the above, had been reduced by a credit of all the recruits and substitutes since furnished, as well as by an allewance of some credits from evidently unjust enrollments in pecial cases. The fault was not with the Provost Marshal or Department, but with the enrolling officers, who were paid for each man enrolled. The quota of the ward now he believed to be about 150. Mr. Lyles here urged each one to come up and subscribe for the relief of those who may be drafted, and through his exertions several hundred dollars were raised. Mr. Walter moved a subscription paper be openid for $20 subscriptions, with the understanding that all who are not drafted will pay np to-night; and a number signed such paper.

It was stated that the name of George H.
Pendleton, the Demogratic candidate for the Vice Presidency, was on the enrollment lists, he having been enrolled at his residence in this city-441 5th street; but it was also stated that since the list had been made out his name had been erased.

THIRD WARD DRAFT MEETING .- The Third Ward Draft Association met last night in the Temperance Hall and was called to order by the president, Mr. N. D. Larner. The first business in order was the reception of greenbacks. The company present was not large, but a number of gentlemen contributed.

The President announced that the first supply of tickets to Ford's benefit for the ward Saturday night was in the room—the price of tickets $1 each. They had succeeded in cutting the quota down to 31 by getting in four men, and ought to have credit for another of whom they were cheated. A young man not of age offered to enlist and his father consented to his enlisting from the Third Ward. He was taken to Alexandria and passed examination for the 2d D. C. regiment. He was brought to the city to be mustered in, but the mustering officer would not receive him unless accompanied by an officer of the regiment. He went back to Alexandria and was placed in charge of Capt. Harrover to be attended to. There was nothing heard from the recruit by his parents until upon inquiry they learned that Capt. Harrover had brought him to Washington but had to return him on account of the informality of his papers. Yesterday Mr. Larner ascertained that the young man had been mustered in and accredited to Georgetown. The bounty offered by Georgetown is $300, but there is $25 extra for those who bring a recruit; that $25 somebody got, who the President did not know, but one thing is certain, we were cheated out of that man.

Mr. Curtis said that some one from the Fourth Ward had been passing through the Third Ward collecting money, and he thought that each ward should furnish its own money without working to the disadvantage of its neighbors.

The President .- If the people of the Fourth Ward are so mean as not to aid their own poor but worthy neighbors in such an hour as this, we of the Third Ward can afford to allow the poor fellows to collect a little in our district to help them. [Applause]
The President called for volunteers to serve on the committee to-day attending to recruits. He wanted to relieve those who had been serving from the beginning. It is the interest of every one to act promptly and industriously in this matter. A number appear to depend on the Council appropriation, but it is his (the President's) opinion they depend on a broken stick. In the first place, the Corporation has not got $50,000. In the second place, they can't borrow it.

Mr. Curtis.-The tax payers can pay it, I reckon. Tax them! Tax them! After waiting a few minutes to fill the committee and distribute the Ford's benefit tickets, the President declared the meeting adjourned.

FORD'S THEATRE.—What a marvellous performance is Miss Maggie Mitchell's "Fanchon;" the perfect realization of the poetry of Art-the embodiment of the soul of the Ideal. that splendid gallery of histrionic art, which the genius of Cushman, Julia Dean, Miss Logan, Mrs. Bowers, and Miss Jean M. Davenport has adorned, which one of its many glorious pictures of nature, can surpass, even if they equal, this living portrait of Miss Mitchell, in its perfect outlining, its beautiful spirit, and its all pervading sentiments of Truth ? We think it may with safety be asserted, that so simple, graceful, and eloquent touch of nature has never before appealed to the love and the esteem of American play goers, and its extraordinary success-equaling the most brilliant known in this country—is an unequivocal popular endorsement of its excellence. Miss Mitchell appeared in this character last night, before as great an audience as the theatre could with all its capacity accommodated and was received with a warmth of greeting, which must have been exceedingly gratifying to her, fraught as it was with earnest and effectionate welcome. The play was capitally performed, and was placed upon the stage in admirable style.
